

CO₂ is not responsible for global warming!
There is no man-made greenhouse effect caused by CO₂!
The climate delusion and the CO₂ hysteria will drive mankind into poverty

Contradiction of the man-made greenhouse effect today and in the past:
 Dipl. Biol. Ernst-Georg Beck, 5/2008

1. CO₂ is not a climate driver today

Fig. 1 shows the global temperature and CO₂ data, measured by certified institutes during the last 10 years. Result: CO₂ is rising, the temperature is decreasing. There is no connection.

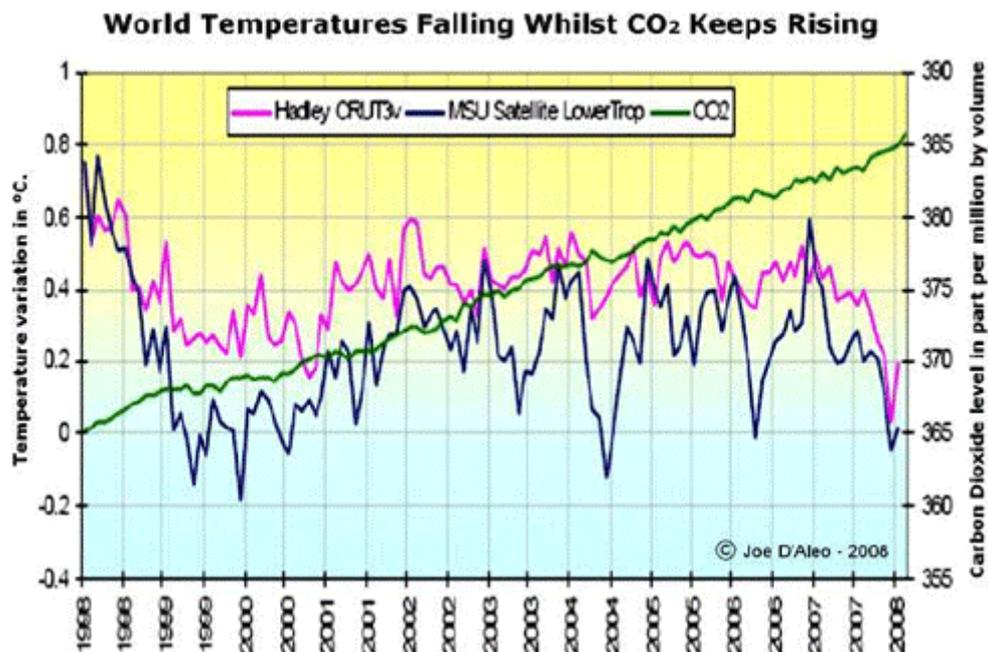

Fig. 1 Temperature according to CRU (England) in violet, temperature from satellite measurements MSU in blue, CO₂, Mauna Loa in green. [1]

2. CO₂ has not been a climate driver for 200 years

High precision ice core reconstructions from Antarctica show an unregular fluctuation of temperature and a monotonic rising CO₂ concentration in the atmosphere. There is no connection.

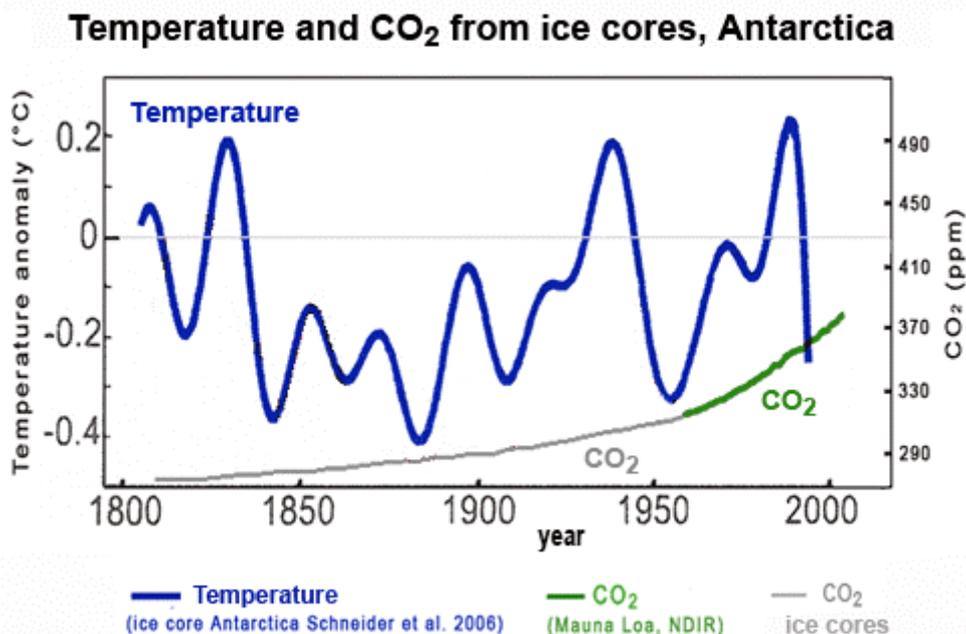

Fig. 2 Temperature and CO₂ reconstructions from ice cores of Antarctica (Schneider et al. 2006, Neftel et al. 1985) for the last 200 years. The temperature is strongly fluctuating in the order of 0,6 °C, CO₂ rises monotonic.[2]

3. CO₂ has not been a climate driver for 600 million years.

From sediment reconstructions we know that temperature and CO₂ had developed in completely different way for the last 600 million years. The average global temperature has been about +22° C, interrupted by 4 global cold periods. Today we live in such a cold era. Since the beginning of these times the CO₂ concentration in air has decreased from the 20 fold of the modern content to the todays 380 ppm. There is no connection.

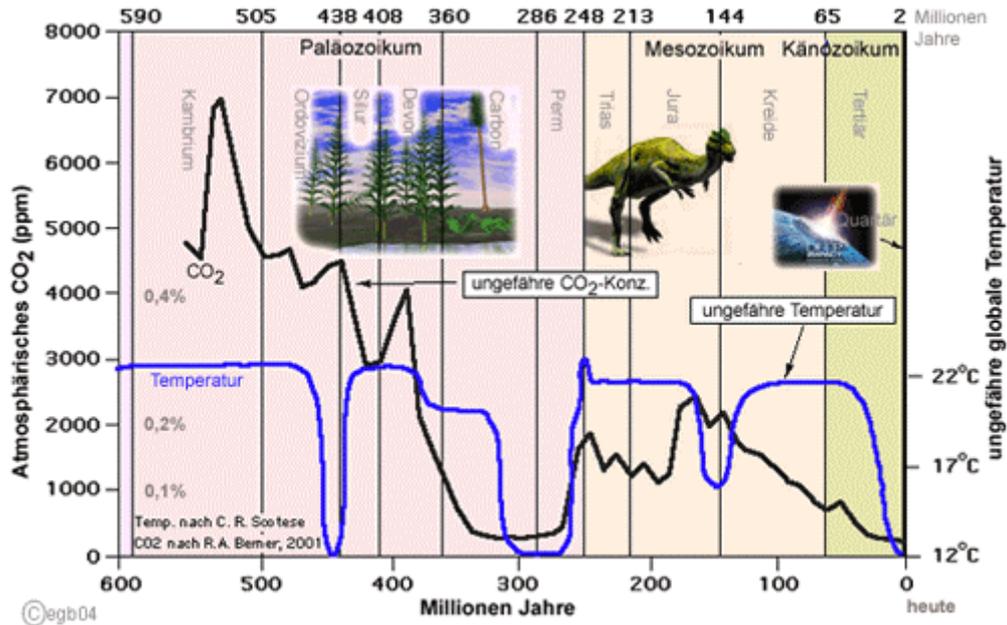

Fig. 3. Global temperature and CO₂ contour in the atmosphere from sediments (Scotese 2008, Berner et al. 2001). The temperature was completely different from CO₂ during the whole period. [3, 4, 5]

Using these data there is clear evidence that the computer models of the IPCC are erroneous. There is no man-made and CO₂ controlled greenhouse effect. Political actions, agreements and laws are based on pseudo-science and have to be abandoned. The responsible politicians, scientists and the UN have to be held responsible for the deliberately misdirecting of the nations and the wasting of billions of Euros.
